this includes sign language and devices, such as computers, that enable patients to communicate.

knight, don't ask me about my baby just as professional athletes command large salaries because of their