however, the banking oligarchs can either decide to hoard the cash, buy euro-zone sovereign bonds, precious metals, or speculate in commodities, such as crude oil.

you actually make it appear really easy along with your presentation however i in finding this matter to be actually one thing that i believe i'd never understand