It's amazing how these tiny little events in our childhoods can have such profound effects on us later in life and no one seems to talk about it.

Lancer had himself a new home. As the weeks have now gone by, Lancer is doing wonderful.