The heat is indeed so terrifying that, sitting back against the wall of boughs, one often turned away or raised a blanket against the face.

Doxylamine is an antihistamine which works by depressing the central nervous system, slowing down the brain activity and inducing sleep.